ABOUT THE ARTIST

Patrick Stull, a master of many artistic disciplines, now explores the power of colors, shapes, and humor, using ink. He unveils his imagination, serious and humorous views of life, as it pours onto cotton paper. One of the most dynamic elements in Stull's work is his passion to express concepts on a large scale.

Here the viewer's sense of artistic expression sores, allowing them to connect with something that can only be described as unique and ethereal.

Colors, Shapes, and Forms;
There's something intoxicating about light and color
as they intersect, each empowering the other.
They leave their marks on all of us,
inextricably altering and empowering all that pass their way.
